

Friday Facts: New Kansas Recycling Directory

Kansas Recycles

Whether you are wondering where you can take your old cell phone for recycling, or trying to find a drop off facility in your neighborhood, you don't need to look any further than the new Kansas Recycling Directory, www.kansasrecycles.org.

The new directory's interactive map allows you to quickly and easily search by material and location. Another unique feature is that recycling service providers are able to modify and update their own information, which should help insure that the information is kept up to date.

The new directory was developed by the Kansas Organization of Recyclers in conjunction with the Kansas Department of Health and Environment's Bureau of Waste Management to replace the Business and Industry Recycling Program (BIRP) directory.
