

Remanufactured Toner and Printer Cartridges

Purchasing remanufactured toner cartridges -- cartridges that have been used at least once and then disassembled, cleaned, and had worn parts replaced and toner refilled -- can save buyers money while helping the environment. Typically, remanufactured cartridges save users from 30 to 50 percent off the price of new cartridges or more, and remanufacturing cartridges keeps them out of landfills. So why not try it? Start out with using a remanufactured cartridge in just one of your printers.

The State of Kansas Purchasing Contract for remanufactured cartridges specifies Corporate Express and Cartridge King as state use vendors. These cartridges are remanufactured by Disability Support Enterprises of McPherson, KS, which means your purchases help to provide jobs for disabled Kansans. Both vendors take back empty cartridges to be used again. When your new cartridges are delivered, the driver will pick up any empty cartridges.

FACT: According to the International Imaging Technology Council, 27 million toner cartridges are remanufactured annually in the US, resulting in the reuse of 27 million pounds of industrial grade plastic and the conservation of 73 million quarts of oil.
